AIMS OF THE SYMPOSIUM

Symposium II aims to raise awareness of the impressive gains of the El Sistema model. As the world community re-examines and builds upon the ensemble –focused dimension of music education, Symposium II seeks to advance understanding among Canadians of how music ensemble - learning and playing may function as a mean by which social inclusion and change can occur.

MISSION

The mission of the Canadian Symposium II is to gather teachers, educators, researchers and other interested individuals in order to facilitate networking and sharing of information via panel discussions and paper presentations.

It is through dialogue that we can open doors to understanding the El Sistema ethos before considering regional and/or national priorities for research, networking and advocacy for the future of El Sistema in Quebec and Canada.

Furthermore, the International Society of Music Education (ISME) will host a symposium on the El Sistema model, as part of a Special Interest Group (SIG), during the 2012 World Conference in Greece on July 15-20.

ISME conference organizers aspire to host Canadian delegates who will collaborate with international colleagues in an effort to create an international El Sistema community for support, resources and endorsement. In this regard, the Canadian Symposium II will facilitate the identification of individuals wishing to be involved with the international community of El Sistema advocates and supporters.
